Introduction:

This small book about need money to love, why's that, every adult woman only love/make relationship for their advantages, lesbians' bad economy and gays' strong economy.

School age women/teenage women don't care about money, they just love, but women in late teen ages (18, 19) and in 20s love/make relationships for their advantages/money it's reasonable for marriage they plan about marrying so need men with money but the fact is a lot of people don't even know to enjoy their lives especially South Asians, they only focused on marriage and make damn children well that's a whole another topic for another book, so even if women in late teen ages (18, 19) and in 20s just in relationships and not about marrying, they're still looking for men with money because their main thing is what they get (the advantages and money), don't care about the men's look, talents and sexual things, just more focused about the money.
even nowadays women do jobs they're still looking for men with money.
how about rich women, do they date poor but good looking men?
the answer is no.
those rich women loving and take care poor men are just stories and movies (except sugar mommy relationships), in real life a rich woman still look for a man who make more money than her, great example is business relationships, rich women looking for men with bigger businesses/companies than them.

Here's about lesbians and gays:
actually, there a lot of things like lesbians have a lot of problems and gays have less problems but here only about the economy in this book so, women with jobs still depending on men, women spend their own money and spend part of men's money but oh my god lesbians can't do that, that's extreme, both are women and why gays economy is strong because they are men, men usually make more money than women and don't spend like women.

Here's my personal facts: I like a lot of women just for a relationship but not for marrying, to marry I need at least these three main things
1 Light skin
2 Big breasts
3 Intelligence
and about me I got talents, special skills, behavior, love, lust and more things more than those average men.
and I have a 6 inch penis and not only that I'm sexually great I have to mention that because that's a one thing, an important thing those women don't get from those men.
